

REDWOOD EMPIRE FOOD BANK

2018-2019 Annual Report

FROM THE DESK OF DAVID GOODMAN

The Redwood Empire Food Bank exists for one simple reason: every day in Sonoma County, people wake up confronted with hunger - we can help them, and we do. However, what we do, and how we do it is surprisingly complicated.

The myriad of forces that impact our work is formidable. During any given day, we must consider poverty, crop economics, homelessness, climate, fuel prices, wages, inflation, housing, food production, retail/consumer trends, government and politics.

As we have done for the past 32 years of anti-hunger work, we started 2019 with a plan for all we intended to accomplish. No sooner did the year begin when we were confronted with a series of challenges that stretched our resources, but inspired our resourcefulness. The most significant of these unanticipated hurdles were the Russian River flooding, the Kincade Fire, the Public Safety Power Shutoffs, and our trade war with China.

Any of these events could have carried us off course. However, amidst all the disruptions and calamities we remained committed to our established plans. Yet – in true Redwood Empire Food Bank fashion – we improvised and adapted to respond to the needs and opportunities presented by the adverse conditions.

One situation was the Kincade Fire and related Public Safety Power Shutoffs. As with other disasters, we activated our Station 3990 disaster response program, and provided food assistance to 25,000 evacuees in only eight days.

Another development was the growing trade war with China. The disruption in our national food system served as a catalyst for our bold pursuit of high-quality food that was stalled in the international export marketplace. We successfully acquired 78 additional truckloads of food (2,915,000 pounds) over the prior year, which resulted in all people facing hunger receiving a better provision of help.

Even with these unforeseen disruptions, we stayed focused on our original plans, and continued to expand Senior Basket with a goal of ensuring that all low-income seniors in need of food receive help. We increased the number of School Pantries from 16 locations to 23. And, the additional food we acquired enabled us to add 127 additional food distribution times and/or locations where people could receive assistance through Groceries to Go.

The Redwood Empire Food Bank has matured during the past decade. We have grown into our warehouse on Brickway, we are comfortable setting bold goals for ourselves, and without trepidation embrace the unexpected yet demanding situations that seem to occur on an annual basis.

We pride ourselves on being determined, focused, and nimble. We have become an organization that is not merely “always ready,” but proactive in improving our provision of help for people in need of food.

And as always, our ability to maintain such a bold approach to hunger relief is a reflection of you and the support you provide: be it food, time, or financial support.

With gratitude,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read 'David Goodman', with a stylized, cursive script.

David, Chief Executive Officer

WHO USES THE REDWOOD EMPIRE FOOD BANK?

In short, anyone in need.

We tend to think that because the people we serve are all hungry, that they are all the same. But every person has a story. No one ever expected to be in a food line.

Every day, a wide variety of people attend the Redwood Empire Food Bank's distributions. We have served seniors who ran out of savings, Coast Guard personnel who were affected by the government shut down, and parents who worry about their ability to feed their children.

It is our job to help people in need. One in six Sonoma County residents face hunger every day. We can help, and we do.

OUR WORK: WHAT WE DO

Ending hunger from Sonoma County to the Oregon border.

First-time visitors to the Redwood Empire Food Bank are often surprised by the scale of our operation. Our warehouse is a busy and exciting place to be — each day, we move thousands of pounds of food, distributing it across five counties.

While most food banks distribute food solely through their vast network of other nonprofit and faith-based charities, the Redwood Empire Food Bank is rare in that over 70% of our work is direct service to our community through our own distributions. We created and continue to grow our direct service programs because the need for food assistance continues to grow exponentially, and our nonprofit partners cannot shoulder the need alone.

We are dedicated to our mission to end hunger in our community, and are committed to doing what it takes to fulfill that mission. Through our three initiatives — Every Child, Every Day, Senior Security, and Neighborhood Hunger Network — we serve over 82,000 people every year. That number is growing, and we are grateful to our donors, volunteers, and partners who make our work possible.

We invite you to visit us at 3990 Brickway Boulevard in Santa Rosa to learn more about what we do and how we do it.

“ Our mission is simple — to end hunger in our community — but how we accomplish our goal is surprisingly complicated.

—David Goodman, C.E.O., Redwood Empire Food Bank

82,000 children, seniors, and adults served in Sonoma County.

5,902 seniors each month are enrolled in our Senior Basket and Diabetes Wellness programs in Sonoma, Lake, and Mendocino Counties.

$44 million worth of healthy groceries distributed to our community.

8,500 volunteers
donated their time, doing
the work of 45 full-time
staff members.

25,506 people served in eight days through our Station 3990 emergency response program following the Kincade Fire and Public Safety Power Shutoffs.

3,418 Redwood Empire Food Bank distributions last year . . .

. . . that's an average of 9 distributions
reaching hungry families, each and every day.

FINANCIAL REPORT - FY 2018-2019

For every $1 donated, we distribute $4 in healthy food.

The Redwood Empire Food Bank is able to stretch every dollar donated thanks to the incredible amount of donated food we receive throughout the year, the efforts of remarkable volunteers who generously donate their time, and our ability to purchase food in bulk for a fraction of the retail cost.

STRAIGHT TO OUR PROGRAMS.

We appreciate the food a lot, especially the fruit and vegetables. It helps feed my two boys.

— Eurpides, single mom of two, ages 3 & 13

During school breaks, some kids go to Tahoe, some kids go to Disneyland, and some kids go hungry. For one in six children, the only meals they have are at school. Our goal is to bridge the meal gaps resulting from school breaks and ensure that every child has access to healthy, nutritious food, every day.

EVERY CHILD
EVERY DAY

In an average month, we serve
1,347 families through School Pantry, 441 families through School Pantry Lite, 153 families through Preschool Pantry, and 7,677 meals through Afterschool Café.
During our Summer Lunch program, we served 43,986 meals to hungry kids.

SENIOR SECURITY

4,079 Sonoma County seniors

are enrolled in our Senior Basket and Diabetes Wellness programs, putting us well on our way to our goal of serving every senior in need in Sonoma County.

“I can no longer go grocery shopping as I can no longer drive or walk to the store. The Redwood Empire Food Bank is my grocery shopping day, I’m extremely grateful for their services.

— Senior woman at Vintage Chateau

For many seniors, the “golden years” aren’t very gold. Thousands of older Americans are living on low fixed incomes and are sacrificing food in order to pay for rising health care and housing costs. Our goal is to make sure that every senior in our area has access to fresh, healthy food that is easy for them to prepare.

“I’ve had to rely on food distributions for a few months now. The people at Redwood Empire Food Bank were so nice and I never once felt judged. I cried when I left the first time, so full of gratitude for how much they had just helped my family without asking me for anything besides where I wanted it. Thank you so much.

— Single mom of two, recovering from brain surgery and unable to work

No matter the disaster,

whether a natural disaster like the Kincade Fire or one of life’s many personal disasters, we are here to catch people when they fall. We provide a vast emergency food system, weaving a strong nutritional safety net for anyone in need.

NEIGHBORHOOD
HUNGER
NETWORK

In eight days, we served 25,506 people during and after the Kincade Fire and Public Safety Power Shutoffs, in addition to our regular workload, which averages nine distributions each day.

These generous growers, retailers, and food manufacturers donated produce, proteins and staple grocery items between July 1, 2018, and June 30, 2019.

People are in need for one of two reasons:
decisions made or circumstances beyond their control.
In either case, hunger cannot be the price they pay.
